Republican Women of Weatherford

May 2019

It was an honor to attend the TFRW Legislative Day in Austin this past April. Dottie Worthington, Karen Wilkinson, and I joined with a sea of red clad women on the steps of the Texas Capital in Austin. We dined with our state representative Phil King and discussed some of the main topics being talked about in Parker County and attended a workshop on Human Trafficking by an organization called UNBOUND.

There are days that the politics around us can seem overwhelming and consuming, but I encourage each of you to stay engaged. Don't quit! It takes women like us to continue to fight for the conservative values that we hold dear. It is easy to get frustrated and walk away but without those brave enough to step up and do the hard work, we simply become vulnerable to the liberal left.

We should all be thinking ahead to the 2020 elections and where we can contribute our time and resources. Can you help on a campaign? Help register voters? Talk to your friends and neighbors? It all adds up!

We can and should find a way to work with each other in Parker County and stop some of the division that has been building. There will always be people that want to stir the pot, that we will never see eye to eye with, and there will be those that will contradict your every word. I encourage you in those moments to not throw dirt but to educate yourself now, for such a time, that your words will not come with malice but instead with knowledge and logic. Remember first your values and then too, WWJD?

We will be announcing the winners this month of the Carolyn Estes Scholarship.

Thank you to Judy James for your time and work on this.

June will bring the rodeo and parade and July the Peach Festival. We will be needing volunteers for the parade float and then for our booth at the Peach Festival, be watching out for lists and thinking about how you can help.

Please do not to forget to RSVP for our May meeting. You should be receiving an e-mail a week in advance to respond to, it is important that we have a head count so that our caterer is prepared. I pray that each of you has a blessed month and look forward to seeing you on the 16th.
